SOFT SKILL

SESSION
2021-22

PREFACE

The twenty first century belongs to India and the educational institutions have great responsibility to create and foster an army of highly qualified human power. Modern institutions need people who are willing and able to work in teams with skills to synthesize individual goals with group goals. Creativity, communication and soft skills are essential tools for good understanding of group dynamics to resolve non-functional conflict and stimulate individual capabilities to enhance organizational efficiency.

One may be armed with good competence of one's subject but one cannot compete with his peer groups unless one has the right blend of soft skills along with requisite technical skills. Performance of individual can be ensured with the demonstration of certain abilities that can help a professional communicate, corroborate, convince, evaluate and look into the continuing as well as the upcoming trends of the corporate world from time to time.

Baba Farid College of Engineering & Technology through School of Skill Development is organizing a course on Soft Skills Development. This programme aims at honing interpersonal skills of Students and enabling them to use these skills in the corporate world. Emphasis will be on interactive and experiential learning with diverse blend of case studies, role plays, management games, lectures, exercises and peer review/feedback. Exercises and development of course modules are integrated in the programme to make learning a pleasure and to better understand the application of creativity and soft skills.
